

THE PALMS FACT SHEET

DESCRIPTION	Set against a backdrop of sugar-sand shores and azure sea, the lushly landscaped 12-acre estate, the 72-room The Palms Turks and Caicos sits at the heart of world-renowned Grace Bay Beach. The Palms debuted in 2005.
LOCATION	Nestled among the British West Indies, just 600 miles southeast of Miami, The Palms beckons sophisticated travelers to Providenciales Island in the Turks and Caicos with a rarified mix of idyllic setting, contemporary indulgence and simple island pleasures. The Palms is just 15 minutes from Providenciales Airport, five minutes from an 18-hole golf course and 10 minutes from the marina and shopping.
DESTINATION	Providenciales, commonly referred to as "Provo," is the vibrant gateway island of Turks and Caicos, located in the northern Caribbean. Nestled in the Atlantic Ocean, this island paradise is part of a stunning archipelago comprising 40 low-lying coral islands. Renowned for its pristine white sand beaches, such as the world-famous Grace Bay Beach, Providenciales offers visitors turquoise waters, thriving coral reefs, and a laid-back atmosphere. Its strategic location makes it easily accessible, with direct flights from major cities in North America. Whether exploring marine life at the third-largest barrier reef, savoring fresh seafood at beachfront restaurants, or enjoying luxury resorts, Providenciales is the perfect blend of natural beauty and upscale island charm.
DESIGN	With traditional luxury and modern playfulness, the resort evokes the classic estates of famed British designer Oliver Messel. One of the foremost stage and costume designers of the 20 th century, Messel is famous for the suite he designed at London's elegant Dorchester Hotel that he designed. At The Palms, architect Rafael Amuchastequi, channels Messel's unique sensibility by combining baroque and rococo styles with a contemporary sensibility and liberal dose of fantasy.
ROOMS & SUITES	Set across five stunning buildings, the resort's 72 one, two, and three-bedroom suites average over 1,500 square feet of living space, combining timeless Barbadian coral facades with luxurious interiors featuring marble floors, custom mahogany furniture, and crown moldings. For those seeking unparalleled luxury, the eight Penthouse Suites offer vaulted ceilings, keyed elevator access, private studies, and expansive travertine terraces with pergolas. Unique amenities like the "water room" with a waterfall shower, a SunSuite with an outdoor shower, and a Jacuzzi further elevate the experience. Every detail, from hand-lit gas lanterns outside to the lush interiors, evokes a sense of timeless grandeur and refined elegance.
ROOM FEATURES	The Palms Turks and Caicos offers elegantly appointed accommodations designed to provide the ultimate in luxury and comfort. Each suite features hand-tufted king beds dressed in 300-thread-count Egyptian linens, along with a full kitchen outfitted with premium Viking appliances, perfect for extended stays or private chef services. Master baths boast hydro-massage bathtubs and separate marble showers, while thoughtful touches like daily maid service, optional butler service, and turndown add to the indulgence. Suites are equipped with complimentary Wi-Fi, 57-channel cable television, and flat-panel LCD TVs in Penthouse Suites. Guests can also enjoy private terraces or balconies with breathtaking ocean views, enhancing the resort's serene atmosphere.

In the afternoon, unwind poolside at Plunge , the resort's pool bar and restaurant. Guests can relax in a water banquette or at the bar, savoring a full menu without leaving the pool. For those who prefer dry land, a sunken dining terrace surrounded by a waterfall and lush gardens offers additional al fresco seating. Lunch or dinner awaits at the resort's newest culinary destination: Sí Sí, the island's first oceanfront Mexican-inspired restaurant, designed to tantalize your taste buds. As the sun sets, sip cocktails here for the best sunset views on Grace Bay Beach or enjoy expertly crafted martinis at the chic Latitude Bar. For dinner, Parallel23, the resort's signature dining experience, serves casually chic international cuisine on an outdoor terrace surrounded by vibrant bougainvillea and overlooking the gardens. SPA

The Spa at The Palms is a destination in itself. Conceived by Angel Stewart of Las Ventanas al Paraiso, Ritz-Carlton Rancho Mirage and The Golden Door fame, its 26,000 sq. ft. are spread over an acre. Guests can relax in stand-alone treatment rooms, each accented with a water feature by day and fire feature by night, or in the garden where tented cabanas provide an alternative setting for island-inspired treatments. Two extraordinary spa suites are also available for individual guests or couples. Inspired by the city of Bangkok and the Caribbean gem, Montego Bay, the spa evokes an "east meets west" feel with signature treatments adapted by the unique essence of each destination. Products from organically formulated lines, Sothys and Zents, are implemented within the spa's world-renowned experiences including signature Caribbean-inspired treatments such as the 'Mother of Pearl Conch Polish,' which uses a precious blend of hand crushed local queen conch shells to gently revitalize and soften, and the indigenous island 'Zareeba' treatment during which guests enjoy an herbal steam, inhaling aromatic steam from a blend of freshly brewed therapeutic herbs and a toxin-releasing massage. A yoga and pilates studio offers daily morning classes and private yoga. Additional pilates and yoga sessions are available by request.
